

Exercise 1: Impact Evaluation Questions for Your Program

Identify and describe one project/program you have worked on or are familiar with, for which an impact evaluation may be particularly useful.
This may be a real or hypothetical project but should be indicative of the types of projects you work on or are likely to work on in the future.

Project name (may be illustrative):

Thematic sector(s):

Target population/group and eligibility criteria for participation:

Intervention(s):

Targeted outcome(s):

Impact evaluation question(s):

How would you use the findings from this impact evaluation?

Review your answers to section 1, and answer the following evaluation questions about your project/program:

1. Is an impact evaluation the right tool for the questions of interest? Why or why not?
2. If not, what tool(s) are a better fit for these question(s)?
3. Do you think there are any other questions an impact evaluation could answer about this project?

List out any other questions you have, that you are hoping this course will help you answer. Fill in the question column now and feel free to add more as they come up throughout the rest of the course. The answer column is a space to fill in throughout the course whenever one of your questions is answered.

Questions (e.g., time, expertise, costs, ethical concerns)	Answer

This document is made possible by funding from the Humanitarian Assistance Evidence Cycle (HAEC). HAEC is made possible by the generous support of the American people through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID). The contents of the materials produced through HAEC funding do not necessarily reflect the views of HAEC, USAID, or the United States Government.

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

